Summary Report

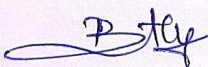

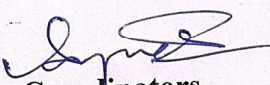

Date : 29.04.2022

Venue: Machine Learning & IoT Lab

Resource Person: Mr.Aasvin Ramaanaathan & Team,
Placement Officer
Assistlana, Puducherry

Internet of Things(IoT) Applications - A very worthwhile and a timely workshop for the II Year AI&DS students is scheduled for two days 29th and 30th April. The resource persons from Assistlana, Pudhuchery is conducted the workshop. The students were been taught to use various sensors and the insights gained in the working of the sensors were immense. This workshop did a great job providing actionable concepts in a way that encouraged instant application leveraging the cloud infrastructures, sensors and a lot more. By applying the knowledge gained in the workshop in the forthcoming days, the results can be impactful for the students.

Students have been given carte blanche to work on projects like soil moisture sensing, face detection, temperature sensor and lot more. The instructions were informative but the interactions and input from the resource person made the experience richer. He also told the information on the projects worked on and the solutions that were given to his clients gave us a boost to think out of the box. Apart from sensors, he also guided on the working of raspberry pi and JETSON. These sessions were not just restricted to only IoT based but also expanded over concepts of machine learning and deep learning. The workshop was a great learning experience to the students.
